

Everyone knows fresh is best, but most vets encourage us to feed our pets with processed foods full of preservatives and lower grade food sources. The grains (that most pet foods are bulked out with) contain high GI starches that encourage obesity, diabetes, cancer and allergies.

Dr Ann Nevill has successfully treated complicated cases such as cancer, digestive weakness and immune problems by focusing on diet as the basis for resurrecting an unbalanced physiology.

Based on Dr Nevill's 15 years of experience in the field and traditional approaches to food energetics, she has formulated three different types of vegetable mixes which are combinations of 15 or more seasonal fruits, vegetables, fresh herbs, spices and other special ingredients.

Vegetable packs are not a complete diet on their own as dogs are omnivores, they need a source of protein such as a high quality meat and most dogs should also have weekly raw bones in their diet.

If you have any further queries please contact your local sales representative:

Ian Maddick: 0412 348 841
Email: foodtherapy@y7mail.com

East West Pets

Is proud to produce

- A FRESH RAW ALTERNATIVE TO DRY OR CANNED FOODS
- BASED ON TRADITIONAL CHINESE ENERGETIC FOOD PRINCIPLES
- OVER 15 SEASONAL FRUITS AND VEGETABLES
- FRESH HERBS AND SPICES
- NO PRESERVATIVES, STARCHES OR ADDITIVES
- FRESH LOCAL INGREDIENTS
- AUSTRALIAN MADE AND OWNED

The meat and vegetable packs are sold separately as this allows you to source your own meat and you can mix and match with the varieties we have available. We believe keeping the vegetables separate also helps better preserve the vitamins, minerals and energetic properties of these packs. All meat and vegetable packs are vacuum sealed to maintain freshness.

Due to popular demand we now have vegetable and meat combinations, called DIGESTIVE, suitable for small dogs, fussy eaters and dogs with digestive complaints.

When introducing Food Therapy we recommend mixing with a small amount of their normal diet. For a few days you may also like to alternate the vegetable packs that you feed to your dog to add variety to their diet.

When feeding Food Therapy to dogs less than 12 months of age, we recommend adding a calcium supplement.

VITALITY:

A balanced diet suitable for healthy dogs. Contains vitamins, minerals, herbs and spices with a balanced blend of raw fresh vegetables. This approximates a dog's original (ancestral) diet when blended with meat of your choice and fed with weekly raw bones.

CLEANSING:

Formulated for damp stagnant dogs, based on traditional Chinese medicine this will reduce the tendencies for skin infections, yeasty ears and other damp type conditions. It is ideal to blend with a lean meat such as kangaroo or rabbit.

DETOX:

This diet has been specifically designed for dogs diagnosed with or that have a tendency towards cancer. It is based on traditional Chinese food energetic principles. This pack contains a mix of fresh fruit and vegetables as well as a special blend of fresh herbs, spices and vitamins to stimulate the immune system and strengthen the body. It is ideal to blend with a lean meat such as kangaroo or rabbit.

FEEDING GUIDE

Small dog up to 5kg

One packet of digestive 100g daily

Small to medium dog 5kg-10kg

Up to two packets of digestive daily or 125g vegetable pack and 250g meat pack over two days

Medium to large dog 10kg-20kg

250g vegetable pack and 500g meat pack over two days

Large dog 20kg and over

250g vegetable pack and 500g meat pack daily and or bulked out with buckwheat.

Buckwheat is a Chinese grain that is low GI and is used as a digestive tonic. Available in 500g packs and 1kg packs.

This is a general feeding guide. Please feel free to experiment with quantities according to your pets needs, for example adjusting for weight loss.

*Vegetable packs contain no preservatives, starches or additives. Meat contains a human grade preservative.